

Belga Diversity Charter

Belga News Agency is the national news agency of Belgium and operates as a supplier of news content and as a digital solutions provider for media organisations, government agencies and companies.

Diversity is a key value in our business activities and employment policy.

Belga commits to going beyond the legal obligations with respect to non-discrimination and considers diversity to be an asset. In our business activities and human resources management we embrace the benefits of differences in age, gender, health status, race and religion and promote an organisational culture based on equality of opportunity.

Belga News agency welcomes a wide range of employees and stakeholders coming from different backgrounds and cultures and exhibiting various viewpoints and experiences.

We respect the principle of non-discrimination, promote pluralism and develop diversity throughout recruitment and career management. We believe that equality of opportunity and promotion of diversity are key factors in stimulating innovation and creativity and will help us to better serve our stakeholders and their customers.
